Purpose and content

This Financial Services Guide (FSG) provides important information to help you decide if you want to use our financial services described. It includes details of:

- The financial services and products we are authorised to offer
- Our fees
- Financial planner(s) who may be appointed to assist you with financial services
- How we are paid, and any interests, associations, relationships or potential conflicts of interest that could affect our advice
- Our internal and external dispute resolution procedures and how to access them
- Our privacy policy

We recommend you read this FSG carefully and contact us if you have any questions or require any clarification.

What other documents will I receive?

If you decide to obtain personal advice from us we will provide our initial advice and any significant subsequent advice to you in a written report called a Statement of Advice (SoA). Your SoA will set out our advice, the basis on which it is given, our fees and/or commissions, as well as information about any associations, relationships or potential conflicts of interest that could affect our advice. It is important to note that we can only provide personal financial advice after making enquiries, and after giving consideration to your current financial situation and future requirements.

If you receive additional ongoing financial advice from us and a SoA isn't provided to you, we will record details of that advice in a Record of Advice document. You can request a copy of any relevant Record of Advice documents within seven years of receiving the advice from us. You should also note that if we recommend a particular financial product to you (other than securities), we will provide a Product Disclosure Statement containing information about the particular product in order to help you make an informed decision.

Our advice

Who will be my financial planner?

Please see the attached profile for your financial planner's details, qualifications and experience.

Who is responsible for the financial services provided?

GFM Wealth Advisory is responsible for the financial services provided to you. It is important to note we are not directed in any way by any Financial Institution.

Do any relationships or associations exist that might influence our advice?

GFM Wealth Advisory, directors or employees nor any related bodies corporate have any relationships or association with any product issuer that could be expected to influence us in the provision of the financial services. All shares in the licensee are privately owned, and no fund manager, bank or other financial institution has any financial investment or interest in our company.

How will you prepare and provide me with suitable advice?

We examine your financial position and create a structured plan designed to achieve your financial goals in life over defined timeframes. We do this by helping you to identify and prioritise your goals, developing realistic strategies and helping you to assess the merits of each alternative - making any changes you require to the strategies. A regular review will ensure that your strategy remains consistent with your goals and objectives as they change over time.

Are there any limitations to your advice?

We only advise and deal in products and services that are listed on our Approved Product List. This list, which is continually reviewed and updated, is the result of research of a wide range of financial products, and administration arrangements, of leading financial product issuers. From this process we select the best and most appropriate for the majority of our clients. For more information on our Approved Products, please speak to your financial planner.

As there may be other products and services that could also be suitable, you should observe any warnings and consider any significant risks contained in our advice prior to implementing any of our recommendations - as any investment decision carries with it a degree of risk – either the risk of capital loss or the risk of the expected benefits not being obtained. We also recommend that you seek independent legal and tax advice about our recommendations and confirm any entitlement to government benefits with the relevant department.

What information should I provide to receive personalised advice?

You need to provide us with details of your personal objectives, financial situation and any other relevant information, so that we can offer you the most appropriate advice possible. Naturally, you may choose not to provide this information, or limit the scope of the advice provided by us. However, if you don't provide us with complete or accurate information, it is important to be aware of the risk that the advice you then receive may not be appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation.

Similarly, if you do not obtain financial advice from us, however you instruct us to apply for or acquire a financial product on your behalf, without this advice, we will not fully take account of your needs, objectives and financial situation in acquiring for or applying for these financial products and there is a risk the financial products you select will not meet these needs and objectives.

How can I give you instructions?

You can give us instructions by telephone, fax, email or other means as agreed with us. Some financial products have their own rules about how to give instructions. Please refer to the Product Disclosure Statement of the relevant product for those details.

Our remuneration

Your financial planner receives a salary from GFM Wealth Advisory. Your financial planner's remuneration may include a share of dividends from GFM Wealth Advisory where they hold shares in the company. If any other remuneration is payable (and not disclosed here), we will provide information about how that amount is calculated when we give you our advice in the written SoA.

How will I pay for the services provided?

Your initial meeting with GFM Wealth Advisory is free of cost and obligation.

Before we provide any services we will agree with you how we get paid. Fees may comprise one, or a combination of, the following:

- A fee based on the value of the funds you invest;
- A fee based on the time we spend developing or implementing your plan;
- An agreed fee-for-service;
- Brokerage for securities transactions through the ASX;
- Commission paid to us by life insurance product issuers, for so long as you hold the product

We will provide details to you about our fees and any payments made to us when we provide our advice to you. We will also explain the fees associated with a particular product or service we recommend.

You have the right to request further information about the remuneration we receive, so if there is anything that is unclear or if you require more information about the service levels we offer, please contact your financial planner.

We will explain to you how you can pay for the financial services you require, however, we are unable to accept cash.

Professional Indemnity Insurance

GFM Wealth Advisory has professional indemnity insurance in place covering the conduct of all current and former employees. These arrangements comply with section 912B of the Corporations Act.

If you have a complaint

We are committed to providing our clients with the highest standards of client service. This involves being completely transparent in the way in which we charge for our services, and being proactive and forthcoming with important information which we believe may assist you with decision-making during our relationship with you. Should you feel less than completely satisfied with the service you receive, it is important to notify us immediately to have the issue raised and resolved.

You should take the following steps.

1. Contact us and tell us about your complaint.
2. If your complaint is not satisfactorily resolved within 3 days, please contact the compliance manager:

The Compliance Manager
 GFM Wealth Advisory
 190 Through Road
 Camberwell VIC 3124
 Telephone: (03) 9809 1221

We shall endeavour to resolve your complaint quickly and fairly. If the complaint is not resolved to your satisfaction, you have the option of referring your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS). Their telephone number is 1300 780 808. FOS will be able to advise you as to whether or not they can be of assistance. We are a member of this service. Please note the Government is in the process of establishing the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA) and FOS will transition to the new authority around 1 November 2018. If the complaint involves ethical conduct, you also have the option of raising your concern in writing with the Financial Planning Association of Australia Limited (FPA). The FPA can be contacted at: PO Box 109, Collins Street West, Melbourne, VIC 8007.
